Description: A stunningly sad and heroically hopeful tale...This is a beautiful novel about relationships of the most makeshift kind. —O, The Oprah MagazineArthur Opp weighs 550 pounds and hasn't left his rambling Brooklyn home in a decade. Twenty miles away, in Yonkers, seventeen-year-old Kel Keller navigates life as the poor kid in a rich school and pins his hopes...

Review: I was honestly really, really angry when I finished this book. Partly because it is so well-written and the characters are so compelling - so a great deal of credit goes to the author for that. The thing is, this book doesn't feel like a book. It feels like half a book. The end ought to have been the middle of a much longer story. At the very least...
